Why did not the Buddha visited his family until his father invited him?

The reason was without an invitation he do not visit anyone if it is not necessary.

His father sent him 500 messengers to invite the buddha, But the last one did the job. The 499 of them became monks after listening to the Buddha's teachings and forgot to fulfilled their duty as the king asked from them.

The last messenger wsa minister "kaludayi" before except the duty, if the king would give him permission to become a monk, he will invite the Buddha. The king gave him permission.
